Holistic Economic & Community Development at Scale Centered Around People & Place

We believe that everybody should have equitable access to capital and opportunities they deserve so they can pursue the dreams they have for themselves and their communities and fully participate in our economy. With our partners we are delivering solutions that contribute to their health and wealth: a vibrant local economy with good jobs; high-quality social services; and a voice in what happens in their community.

Addressing Systemic Issues for Communities & Investors

Exclusionary Practices Creating Economic Inequity

Outdated financial approaches continue to exclude too many people - especially people of color - from equitable access to capital and opportunities, fueling the continued growth of the racial wealth gap.

Lack of Place-Based, Community-Led Solutions

Attempting to implement uniform lending products and programs across communities has not had a deep and lasting impact. Trusted organizations that listen to, value, and implement community-led solutions need to be the norm rather than the exception.

Disconnected Capital Supply & Demand Between Investors and Communities

Institutional investors are currently disconnected from the community organizations and projects that drive real, scalable impact. This has created a key gap in existing capital and the ability for local leaders to access and leverage it effectively.
