Underserved communities in the San Francisco Bay Area continue to face serious economic and social challenges, and Capital Impact Partners is committed to developing projects and partnerships that strengthen those communities and improve the lives of the people who live there.
Capital Impact Partners has invested $188 million in 91 projects in the San Francisco Bay Area’s low-income communities and $819 million in 352 projects throughout California. These projects are creating new businesses and new jobs, increasing access to high-quality education, health care, and healthy foods, developing affordable housing, and providing opportunities for elders to age with dignity in their communities.
Committed to Creating Opportunity

Capital Impact Partners is a national, nonprofit Community Development Financial Institution that is dedicated to creating new opportunity in communities where opportunity is needed most.

We believe that low-income communities have the potential to thrive, but we also believe that realizing that potential is a complex challenge that requires innovative solutions.

And so we focus on delivering strategic financing that supports projects in six key sectors that are critical to the development of healthy communities:

- Health care
- Affordable housing
- Dignified aging
- Education
- Healthy foods
- Cooperative development

The goal is to build whole communities that support equitable access to quality services, foster good health, and create economic opportunity.

Over our 30-year history, we have deployed over $2 billion to serve nearly 5 million people and create more than 33,000 jobs nationwide in sectors critical to vibrant communities.
EDUCATION  🎓

Aspire Public Schools

Capital Impact Partners and the Low Income Investment Fund have partnered to provide financing packages totaling $14.4 million to help Aspire Public Schools meet its need for working capital. Aspire operates 35 small, high-quality charter schools in low-income neighborhoods throughout California. Over the past five years, 100 percent of its graduates have secured admission to a four-year college or university.

HEALTHY FOOD  🛍️

Feed the Hunger Foundation

Feed the Hunger Foundation was founded in 2008 to reduce poverty and hunger by providing microloans to low-income entrepreneurs whose businesses strengthen their communities and increase access to healthy, affordable foods. Capital Impact Partners provided $100,000 in financing to support the Foundation’s California Food For Thought Program, which provides loans to healthy food projects in the state’s Central Valley and Central Coast.

HEALTH CARE  🏥

South of Market Health Center

Capital Impact Partners provided $17.7 million in critical financing to enable the South of Market Health Center to open its new 20,000-square-foot clinic in 2011. The organization was established in 1973 to serve the South of Market neighborhood, which is home to some of San Francisco’s poorest residents. The Center operates two full-service clinics that each year serve an average of 5,000 patients, 60 percent of whom are homeless and uninsured.
Axis Community Health

Axis Community Health was created in 1972 to serve low-income children in Eastern Alameda County. Today, Axis provides affordable care to more than 14,000 Tri-Valley residents. Capital Impact Partners collaborated with The California Endowment to provide $6 million in financing to support the construction of a new 24,000-square-foot health center in Pleasanton that will double Axis Community Health’s capacity to provide care.

Center for Elders’ Independence

In 1991, the Center for Elders’ Independence became the first organization in California to replicate a model of care known as the Program of All-Inclusive Care for the Elderly (PACE). The purpose of PACE is to offer customized health care and caregiving services to allow low-income seniors who are ill or disabled to continue living at home. Capital Impact Partners provided $1.25 million in financing to support the Center’s PACE program in the East Bay.

Lifelong Medical Care

Capital Impact Partners joined JPMorgan Chase and three community development nonprofits to provide $10.3 million in financing that enabled Lifelong Medical Care to expand its West Berkeley clinic. Lifelong’s roots date back to 1976, when a group of Gray Panthers in Berkeley launched the landmark Over 60 Health Center to serve low-income elders. Today, the organization operates 11 clinics for underserved people throughout the East Bay.

Financing is one tool we use to create strong, vibrant communities. As a Community Development Financial Institution, we ensure that projects in underserved areas often overlooked by traditional banks have access to investment capital. We recognize the special dynamics of lending in these communities and can get even the most complicated transactions done. For over 30 years, we’ve helped forward-thinking entrepreneurs, organizations and businesses revitalize neighborhoods and deliver social impact.
