Creating Impact Through Financing Healthy Food Enterprises

More than 20 million Americans live in areas without supermarkets or other means to access fresh, nutritious foods. We have the opportunity to address this major public health challenge that overwhelmingly impacts underserved communities.

Where many lenders may only see risks and collateral, it is our mission to help you build and expand facilities that increase access to fresh and healthy foods in places where it does not exist.

Capital Impact is a leading nonprofit lender to food projects across the country. Our $150 million in financing has led to the development of new stores, expansion of existing stores, and innovations such as mobile markets and food hubs that scale distribution efforts. This effort creates healthier communities while spurring economic growth and job creation.
